Launch a New Tuition Discount Program

Better Together

Wentworth Dean Deborah Wright and IFMA
Boston Chapter President Dawn Borden, CFM

Building upon a long history of association sponsorship, academic scholarship and professional collaboration, Wentworth Institute of Technology (WIT) and the IFMA Boston Chapter are pleased to announce a new educational agreement in the form of a tuition discount program. Drawing upon a diverse set of certificate and degree programs, IFMA Boston and Wentworth's College of Professional and Continuing Education (CPCE) are working jointly to meet the career development and workforce training needs of members who seek applied knowledge and professional validation in the highly demanding facility management (FM) industry. CPCE is now IFMA's "educational partner" by offering enrollment in select hybrid and online courses at a 10% discount to eligible members.

IFMA Boston and Wentworth are now "Better Together"

Are you thinking about your career and your FM future? The IFMA/Wentworth Tuition Discount Program is a great financial incentive to return to the classroom. It is a pathway towards personal academic achievement and a trajectory towards expanded FM assignments or new responsibilities at work. By taking classes at Wentworth, members can secure a competitive edge amongst their peers, acquire valuable FM skills and help lead IFMA students towards increased job performance in the FM workplace. Whether a young emerging professional looking to advance or a seasoned building manager needing to validate their workplace experience, eligible IFMA members who take advantage of the Tuition Discount Program can study facility management (FM), project management (PM) and construction management (CM). The Discount Program enhances the special IFMA/Wentworth relationship, while tackling the education and workforce training needs of the FM community. Check out these CPCE programs;
